MCKAY GIVEN
25% OF FEES,
SAYS WITNESSSCHWARTZ TELLS OF
DEALS IN LIQUOR
GRAFT CASE

BY ROBERTA APPLEGATE
Lansing, July 6 (AP)—Isadore Schwartz, one of eight defendants in the liquor graft conspiracy case here, turned state evidence this afternoon after Circuit Judge Leiland W. Carr dismissed charges against him.

The charges were dismissed on the motion of Special Prosecutor Kim Sigler, who for more than an hour led Schwartz through testimony of his financial and personal relationships with Frank D. McKay of Grand Rapids, one of the defendants and former Republican national committeeman from Michigan.

Schwartz testified McKay received a "25 per cent share" of all money the witness made as a sales representative for the Arrow Liquor Corp. of Detroit, and that the former Republican leader would "sometimes" call Fred C. Ehrmann, ex-secretary of the State Liquor Control Commission, and say the Arrow was "a good line to travel with."

Parade of Witnesses
Haltlingly and in a low voice, the Russian born witness related details of his association with McKay from what he said was their first meeting in 1934 to 1942, when all eight were defendants in a federal court trial on similar charges, but were acquitted. Schwartz testified that McKay paid his attorney's fees in that case. He was still on the witness stand when court adjourned for the day.

Schwartz' sudden appearance on the witness stand climaxed a day in which a parade of witnesses from liquor distillers had testified they paid upwards of $150,000 to four other defendants to represent them in obtaining favorable orders from the State Liquor Control Commission.

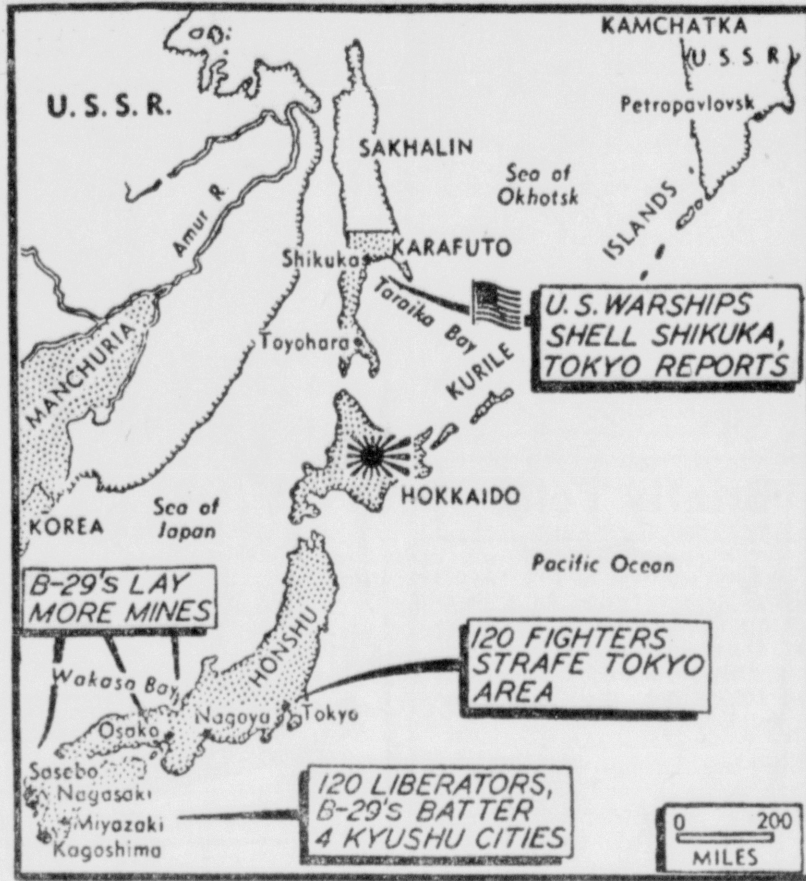

The defendants are charged by Judge Carr's one-man grand jury with corrupting the State Liquor Control Commission between 1938 and 1940, and of promising preferential treatment by the liquor commission to distillers on payment of a commission.

Brewery Deal
Two grants of immunity, ordered more than a year ago, also were filed today, giving Emanuel M. Rosenthal, president, and Charles Layton, (formerly Lipsitz) sales manager, of the Mohawk Liquor Corp. of Detroit immunity from prosecution on their answers to eight questions. Both were indicted June 3 in connection with a legislative graft conspiracy case, but they have not yet been brought to trial in this case.

Other defendants in the liquor graft conspiracy case are William H. McKeighan, former mayor of Flint; Charles Williams and his son Earl Williams, former partners in the Williams Sales Co. of Detroit; Fisher L. Layton, former partner in the Layton Sales Co., who resigned as administrative assistant in the State Highway Department after the indictment was issued June 16; Charles Leiter, former liquor sales representative, and Donald Flory, former liquor sales representative.

Schwartz testified that Leiter introduced him to McKay in 1934 when he was participating with Leiter in the purchase of a Muskegon brewery. Schwartz said he had 12,000 shares in the brewery, Leiter 15,000 shares, and McKay "approximately $200,000" invested.

Michigan Delegation Is Looking For More Meat;
Anderson Promises Help

BY JOHN CHADWICK

Washington, July 6 (AP)—A Michigan delegation here looking for more meat and other foods for their war-busy state got a mixed reception today.

They were not given much encouragement at the OPA, but they reported a conditional promise of help from the new secretary of agriculture, Clinton P. Anderson. Lynes D. Boomer, secretary of the Detroit Board of Commerce and chairman of the group, said Anderson promised to lift slaughtering quotas for small packers in Detroit if convinced the extra meat would be kept out of black markets.

With Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), the delegation headed back to Detroit tonight to attempt to "work out something" that will satisfy Anderson. They will confer with Mayor Jeffries and Health Commissioner Bruce H. Douglas.

Recent legislation extending OPA for another year gave Anderson authority to certify non-federally inspected packing plants as sanitary and lift their slaughtering quotas.

Boomer said Detroit has 34 of these small plants and asserted belief removal of their quotas would solve the city's meat shortage. He quoted Anderson as saying, however, that he would prefer for the OPA, rather than himself, to act.

The delegation, appointed by Gov. Harry F. Kelly, then went to the OPA. Afterwards Boomer said that nothing was accomplished, that OPA had only taken the matter under advisement.

John Madigan, head of OPA's meat division, said the agency's figures indicated that Detroit's meat supply was "on a par with that of other major industrial centers."

The state delegation contended that a heavy influx of war workers had cut deeply into Michigan's food supplies and asked for increases in shortening allocations and red-point allotments for restaurants as well as for more meat.

Auto workers at Pontiac have threatened to take strike action unless they receive more food at the plants by July 9, they said. Clifford R. Rollings of the food industry committee said the situation had "explosive elements."

Madigan said he felt "trade unionists in Detroit are as patriotic as anywhere" and foresaw no trouble so long as they receive their fair share.

Motion Is Denied
In Murder Trial

Battle Creek, July 6 (AP)—Circuit Judge Blaine W. Hatch today denied a motion to quash proceedings against Pete Mahoney of Detroit, charged with conspiring to murder the late State Senator Warren G. Hooper of Albion.

Judge Hatch's finding said there was "ample testimony" submitted at a justice court hearing to warrant "a cautious man to believe that said defendant Mahoney was guilty of the offense of conspiracy as alleged in the information."

"I therefore find," it added, "that the justice did not abuse his discretion in finding that there was probable cause for binding the defendant over to circuit court on said charge."

NAMES VINSON
SECRETARY OF
U. S. TREASURYWAR MOBILIZATION
HEAD SUCCEEDS
MORGENTHAU

BY MAX HALL

Washington, July 6 (AP)—Tall, rugged Fred Moore Vinson of Kentucky, director of war mobilization, will be the next secretary of the treasury.

The White House made the announcement late today, abruptly ending a swirl of speculation over a successor to Henry Morgenthau, Jr., who resigned yesterday.

President Truman had said he had a man in mind for the post but would not name him until he returned from the Big Three conference in Germany several weeks from now.

Apparently Mr. Truman changed his mind and settled the matter today. A White House aide made the announcement, disclosing that the actual appointment will be made on the return from Europe.

That means Morgenthau will continue in the post for the time being, as announced yesterday.

May Combine Jobs
Vinson, 55 years old, has had a richness of governmental experience few men ever achieve. He has been an ace in the legislative, judicial, and executive branches of the government, all within the space of a few years.

Now he is director of war mobilization and reconversion. As soon as it became known that he is the man who will take over Morgenthau's job as chief of the nation's financial functions, observers were quick to wonder whether he will take into the treasury with him his present task of "war mobilizer."

The White House gave no indication as to this but some thought it was logical for the whole field of taxes, public debt management, and reconversion to be consolidated under the big, shaggy man whose rise from office to office has been so rapid.

Vinson is not merely familiar with taxes—he is known as an honest-to-goodness tax authority.

He served 14 years in the House, in most cases battling down the line for President Roosevelt's ideas.

Against Tax Cuts

In 1938 he was appointed by Roosevelt as an associate justice of the U. S. court of appeals, District of Columbia. He served for five years and then was drafted into the executive branch in the mammoth assignment of holding the line against rising prices that threatened to twist the nation's economy into the spiral of inflation. As director of economic stabilization, Vinson was tough.

Revise Tax Laws
To Aid Business

Washington, July 6 (AP)—Legislation revising tax laws to improve the cash position of business by $5,500,000,000 in the reconversion period won speedy house approval 246 to 91 today and was forwarded to the senate.

The house rejected 120 to 95 an effort to reduce excess profits taxes by $235,000,000 this year through a retroactive increase in the extension under this levy.

The boosted exemption will become effective next January.

Bishop Will Help Plan
Tourist Council Session

Mackinac Island, Mich., July 6 (AP)—Governors of three states and the Premier of Ontario were named today to a Northern Great Lakes Area Council designed to attract tourists to the upper lakes region.

A meeting will be held in Wisconsin, probably next month, to organize formally the group's program. The governors of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota and the Ontario premier, each will appoint four other members of the council.

The preliminary steps were taken at a meeting of 50 delegates from the three states and Ontario. Invitations of Governor Kelly of Michigan, the host, to governors of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio to join the Association were ignored by the organizational committee. New York also was ruled out as a possible entrant.

Primary objectives set forth by the council included help to discharged servicemen seeking to enter the tourist business; improvement of the character and extent of tourist accommodations throughout the region and improvement of transportation facilities.

Employees Returning
To Goodyear Plants;
Firestone Still Out

Akron, O., July 6 (AP)—Airplane tires and other war-vital items were back in production on a curtailed basis today at five plants of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., as 17,600 CIO-United Rubber Workers started returning to their jobs following yesterday's seizure by the navy.

Capt. H. K. Clark, USNR, who took over the huge concern on orders from President Truman, said the 20-day strike ended as about 83 per cent of the workers returned to their jobs.

While the Goodyear employees trooped back past the time clocks, the 16,500 Firestone employees who have been on strike since last Sunday, in defiance of a WLB back-to-work order, continued their stoppage which Navy and Army officials say is costing the war effort 15,000 plane and truck tires and tubes daily.

END PULLMANS
FOR CIVILIANS

ODT Order Makes More
Cars Available To Move Troops

Washington, July 6 (AP)—Civilian pullman service will be discontinued July 15 on all trips of 450 miles or less in order to make more cars available to move troops.

The order was drafted by the Office of Defense Transportation after consultations with military and railroad officials.

It was estimated the order would result in the withdrawal of approximately 900 cars now in civilian service.

This will make approximately two-thirds of all pullman cars available for the exclusive use of the military services. There are about 7,500 pullmans.

Col. J. Monroe Johnson, ODT director, said the unexpectedly heavy arrival of troops from Europe ahead of schedule made the action necessary at this time.

Predicting that July may be the biggest of all months in the redeployment of troops from Europe to the Pacific, Johnson said that it might be necessary to curtail civilian pullman service even further.

The shortest rail route between any cities will be used in establishing the 450-mile limit.

The order will rule out pullman service between such cities as Washington and New York, Chicago and Detroit, Kansas City and St. Louis, St. Louis and Chicago, and Chicago and the Twin Cities. Railroad officials predicted they would be able to put the order into effect by the noon July 15 deadline.

YOUTH IS DROWNED

Bridgeton, N. J., July 6 (AP)—"Accidental death" was the coroner's verdict today on the drowning of John Dare, 16, who jumped from the East Commerce street bridge into the Cohasset river Wednesday night to demonstrate his swimming ability to several girls standing on the bridge.

As the campaign closed, the Japanese were fighting among themselves on Okinawa, Geiger said, pointing out that the surrender of 7,500 combat troops and 3,400 labor troops showed the "weakening Japanese morale."

"At the beginning of the war, we thought they were 'super men,'" Geiger continued, "but at heart they are cowards and they have an inferiority complex. They haven't near the stamina and brains we have got."

"When they get into bad straits, they kill themselves," Geiger, looking for resistance by civilians, including women, when Japan is invaded.

"They won't be any worry to us," Geiger said.

A number of women in uniform were found on Okinawa.

It's Still Time
To Plant Gardens

East Lansing, July 6 (AP)—If you missed out on planting a Victory garden in the spring, there is still time to put in a valuable fall garden.

That is what Perry H. Bowser, Michigan State College garden specialist, had to say to gardeners today. He pointed out that now is a good time to put in carrots, beets, rutabagas, turnips, head lettuce, full green onions and other vegetables.

Extra care will be necessary, however, to insure a good crop, he warned. Fall gardens should be planted only in well-prepared seed beds and a dry crust should not be allowed to form over the plantings.

BLACK MARKET
WAR PROMISED

Justice Department To Uncover Illicit Operations

Washington, July 6 (AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark announced tonight the justice department will concentrate for the present on black markets, anti-trust violations, war fraud and tax evasions.

Asserting he has "intense feelings" on the subject of black markets, Clark, who took office June 30, declared that over-price dealings in everyday necessities such as gasoline, meat and clothing will receive first attention.

He disclosed in an address prepared for broadcast over the NBC that he has directed all U. S. attorneys "to double their efforts to put black marketeers in the penitentiary."

Clark promised to work closely with the internal revenue and treasury departments to see "that all tax evaders are punished," adding that one evil of black markets in concentration of large sums of money which are not reported for taxation.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover sees eye to eye with him on these problems, he said, and "together we shall solve them."

Asserting that America obtained a late start in war production because of collusive control of markets, Clark said these "malpractices" will not again be permitted. He added that his department does not intend to allow re-establishment of the practice of alien business control "that crept on us after the last war."

American people and intelligent business leaders desire to preserve free enterprise, Clark continued, "and this means an end to selfish protection of the entrenched, an end to domination and extermination of the small to protect the advantages of the large, an end to the 'right' of dollars to stifle brains and incentive, an end to 'supernatural' cartel conspiracies."

As the campaign closed, the Japanese were fighting among themselves on Okinawa, Geiger said, pointing out that the surrender of 7,500 combat troops and 3,400 labor troops showed the "weakening Japanese morale."

"At the beginning of the war, we thought they were 'super men,'" Geiger continued, "but at heart they are cowards and they have an inferiority complex. They haven't near the stamina and brains we have got."

"When they get into bad straits, they kill themselves," Geiger, looking for resistance by civilians, including women, when Japan is invaded.

Doctor Proposes Birth Control For
15 Million Dogs

New York, July 6 (AP)—Birth control for dogs and measures to halve the nation's canine population "until the food problems of the world are solved" were suggested by Dr. Leon F. Whitney, Orange, Conn., biologist and veterinarian, in an article released today.

In the article prepared for the current issue of American magazine, Whitney estimated that 15,000,000 dogs in America "daily are consuming as much food as 7,500,000 human beings, and this in a half-starved world."

"I think," Whitney wrote, "it is high time that we practiced birth control for dogs."

The biologist also said he thought "it would be a very good idea to cut the dog population in half until the food problems of the world are solved."

ENEMY'S WAR
INDUSTRY HIT
IN YANK RAIDAUSSIES MOVE ON OIL FIELD AT SAMARINDA

BY CLYDE BARTEL
Associated Press War Editor
About 600 Superforts smashed at five Japanese war production centers on Honshu Island early today with approximately 4,000 tons of fire and demolition bombs, in one of the heaviest raids to date in the rising aerial war on the enemy homeland.

Shimotsu, near Osaka, site of the previously-hit Marusen oil refinery, and Akashi on the inland sea shared the blows with Kofu, Chiba and Shinjuku, all in the Tokyo area. While Akashi and Chiba have been hammered before in demolition raids, it was the first firebomb attack on these cities as well as on Kofu and Shinjuku.

In the southeastern Borneo invasion Australian Seventh division units made a three-mile crossing of Balikpapan Bay to secure Penadjan Point and camp a firm hold on Balikpapan and the entrances to its harbor, largest on the island.

Kyushu Bombed
Other Aussie units pushed toward the Samarinda oil field, 55 miles northeast of Balikpapan, and closed in on refineries still held by the enemy around the oil port.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur said 3,031 Japanese dead had been counted and 274 prisoners taken in all Borneo operations, including the invasions of Tarakan and the Brunei Bay area in the north. Allied casualties, he said, were only 214 dead, 22 missing and 420 wounded.

For the second consecutive day, MacArthur announced sweeps over the west coast of Kyushu, southernmost Japanese home island, by Fifth Air Force fighter-bombers newly based on Okinawa. He also reported continued bombing of Formosa installations and a raid on an arsenal in the Canton, China, area.

Navy and Marine planes sank two small Japanese vessels and damaged five others in attacks off Korea, in the East China Sea, and around the Amami Islands north of Okinawa. U. S. Pacific fleet headquarters said.

Hit Industrial Centers
Tokyo radio reported that 250 U. S. bombers and fighters from Okinawa and Iwo Jima bases hit Tokyo airfields and Kyushu Island Friday, for the third straight day.

Prime targets for the Superforts in today's early raid, aside from the oil refinery at Shimotsu, were Kofu railroad and machine shops; Akashi's Kawasaki Aircraft company, already hard hit; Chiba's rail lines and warehouses, and Shimizu, with one of the nation's largest aluminum plants.

Tokyo said the United States already was hitting Japan with 11,000 planes. The figure was not confirmed by American officials, but the Japanese have been promised daily 1,000-plane raids.

Superfortress headquarters at Guam said destruction in Japanese cities since the start of B-29 attacks last November totalled more than 120 square miles, with areas hit in recent raids yet to be tabulated.

Chinese Offensive
Heavily hit was Tokushima, largest city on Shikoku Island, 74 per cent destroyed in a July 4 attack.

SGT. MAJESTIC DIES OF WOUNDS

Gladstone Soldier Is Casualty In Battle For Luzon

Staff Sergeant Rudolph T. Majestic, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Majestic of North Fifteenth street, Gladstone, died of wounds received in the battle of Luzon, according to word received yesterday by his parents from the War Department.

Born April 3, 1925, in Gladstone, he attended Gladstone high school and in June, 1943, left for service in the army. Following training at Fort Sheridan, Ill., in Texas and at Fort Ord, Calif., he was shipped overseas in November.

Serving with an infantry unit he was wounded twice, the first time on February 25, and the second March 23 on Luzon.

Surviving besides his parents are the following brothers and sisters:

Sgt. Casimir Majestic, now in Czechoslovakia; Pfc. John Majestic, in Texas, James and Pauline at home.

ENEMY'S WAR INDUSTRY HIT IN YANK RAID

U. S. Pacific fleet headquarters told how an American destroyer permitted the Japanese hospital ship Takasago Maru to remove 974 sick, undernourished and wounded Japanese soldiers and sailors from Wake Island July 4.

A boarding crew from the U. S. destroyer Murray searched the hospital ship before and after it touched Wake, which the Japanese took from a small force of U. S. Marines in an overwhelming attack Dec. 24, 1941.

Most of the Japanese patients were suffering from malnutrition, many with small chance of survival. This was plain evidence of the effectiveness of the American blockade of Wake, which lies 2,300 miles west of Honolulu.

In ground action on the Asiatic mainland, the Chinese, on the offensive after eight years of fighting, announced victories in commemorating the beginning of the Sino-Japanese war July 7, 1937.

To Invade Homeland?

Tokyo radio passed up mention of the China war, but related details of the militarization of Japan's railroads. All officials and employees of the state roads will be mobilized into a "volunteer combat corps," and all lines will be operated under the command of the chief of the general staff.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek in a war anniversary message to the nation, reiterated his pledges that China would carry the main burden of operations against the Japanese on the continent, and added "We anticipate an Allied landing on Japan."

An army spokesman said the Chinese have captured Kiennan, Kungnan and Tingnan, communications centers all in southwestern Kiangsi province.

Headquarters reported progress in the Chinese mop-up north of Luichow, recently retaken from the Japanese, and heavy fighting in the Chinese push on Kanhsein, former U. S. air base, in Kiangsi province.

The Japanese have suffered 2,521,737 casualties in their eight years of war with China, the Chungking spokesman said. These included 1,318,670 wounded, 1,179,774 killed and 23,293 captured. Chinese casualties, he added, totaled 2,178,063, comprising 1,752,591 wounded, 1,310,224 killed and 115,248 missing.

Neostigmine Found Disappointing In Acute Polio Cases

Chicago—With the infantile paralysis season at hand, physicians will read in the Journal of the American Medical Association this week that:

1. A synthetic chemical called neostigmine plus hot packs help relax muscle spasm, a little, or temporarily, in acute cases and are promising enough to warrant further trial and study.

2. The amount of ultimate recovery from infantile paralysis depends primarily on the extent to which the central nervous system was involved and not the type of treatment.

The use of neostigmine for infantile paralysis was first suggested by Dr. Herman Kabat, now with the U. S. Public Health Service, and Dr. Miland E. Knapp, of the University of Minnesota in 1943. They reported the chemical relieved the excessive muscle tone or tension and the muscle spasm and helped reduce incoordination. Neostigmine, also called prostigmine, had heretofore been used successfully to relieve fatigued muscles in myasthenia gravis, a disease of muscle weakness.

McKAY GIVEN 25% OF FEES, SAYS WITNESS

Fitzgerald took office the first time I went in to see Mc Kay and told him I wasn't getting anything from the brewery and asked to be put on the payroll," Schwartz said. "He told me the brewery wasn't doing so good, but suggested I get one or two liquor accounts. So I suggested the Arrow Liquor Corp. because I knew Mr. Schreier" (Samuel Schreier, secretary-treasurer of the corporation who testified just before Schwartz took the stand) he continued.

The witness related that "about Jan. 1, 1936," he got the account with a commission of 10 per cent on all sales to the state liquor monopoly, and immediately "called up Mr. Mc Kay" in Grand Rapids and told him I made the deal with Arrow. He said he would take care of it, and the following week they got an order from the state.

"I'd have to give him 25 per cent of all the money I collected from Arrow, and I was to spend the rest of the money, except $75 a week, to promote the sales of the Grand Rapids Brewing Company," he testified. Schwartz said he never got any money back from the brewery company, nor from Mc Kay.

Schwartz said a similar routine was followed in 1939, when Fitzgerald succeeded Frank Murphy as governor, and he was able again to represent the Arrow corporation, after the two-year break.

Tells of Payments

"I told them I thought we ought to get together again — and they said it seems like it — all the old boys are back in power," he testified.

The second time, however, Schwartz asserted he received one dollar a case on all goods sold to the liquor commission, gave 25 per cent to Mc Kay, and "gave half of the rest of the money, at Mc Kay's direction, to Leiter."

Schwartz, describing alleged telephone calls to Ehrmann, said that whenever "Arrow didn't get a big order, Schreier would call me, and I'd get in touch with Mc Kay. I'd say if we didn't do better I might lose the account, and he said he'd see what he could do."

Then, he continued, "He would call someone called Fred, and say this is Frank, or Dave, and say the Arrow is a good line to travel with—see what you can do for them."

Schwartz testified that Mc Kay would get reports on orders placed by the liquor commission, and that it was from these reports he knew how much to collect from the Arrow company.

The former defendant said he had received a $1,800 commission from another account but had to "turn all the money over to Frank Mc Kay."

Charles Layton testified he paid Mc Keighan approximately $15,000 for political campaign expenses in exchange for help in selling liquor to the state stores. Rosenthal testified he paid Charles Williams between $14,000 and $17,000 during a six-month period starting in February, 1939, and Fisher L. Layton, "about the same or maybe a couple thousand more" for eight or nine months starting in February, 1940.

Richard H. Haynes, former sales manager for Schenley Distributors, Inc., testified that Leiter, under the name of "Mr. Brown" had solicited the Schenley account in Michigan, and that he had paid Leiter approximately $12,000 from the Fall of 1936 to the Spring of 1937.

Seize Boats, Cars Of Meat Smugglers

Detroit, July 6. (P)—Attempts to smuggle meat and poultry out of Canada have resulted in the seizure of a number of river boats and automobiles at the international boundary, customs officials reported today.

Penalties assessed last month, according to a customs office spokesman, totaled $18,000. The penalties include a $100 fine for failure to report to customs, double the value of the undeclared items and the value of the boat or automobile.

Officials said today that all the boats had been redeemed, among them a $3,500 cruiser and a $2,500 craft. The seized automobiles still are being held.

A number of Americans, who have anchored in waters near Peche Island, have reported being approached by Canadians with meat, poultry, butter and cheese to sell at $1 a pound.

Vincent To Continue War On Tax Evaders

Washington, July 6 (P)—The war on tax evaders, started by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, will proceed under his successor, Fred M. Vinson.

Vinson, with a long background of studying and framing tax measures while he was a member of the house of representatives, is known to feel that in justice every one should carry his share of the tax burden.

FOLLO SPEAKS AT MARQUETTE

2-Day Adult Education Institute Will Be July 18 And 19

Charles Follo, director of adult education at Escanaba, will be one of the speakers at the two-day Adult Education Institute in Marquette July 18 and 19 under the auspices of the State Department of Public Instruction, Michigan College of Mining and Technology, and Northern Michigan College of Education, the host institution.

This is the first such Institute in Michigan since the state's experimental adult education program was approved by the legislature in February, 1944.

Mr. Follo will report on Escanaba's achievements at the symposium on "Successful Community Programs" at the afternoon session July 18. Other speakers will be Einar Larson of Sault Ste. Marie, Hugo Swanson of Norway, and James Tenbrink of Muskegon county.

Preceding the symposium will be a morning session chaired by Dr. James Fisher, extension director of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology. Greetings will be extended by Presidents Grover C. Dillman and Henry A. Tape of the cooperating Upper Peninsula colleges. Dr. Howard McClusky of the University of Michigan will give the keynote address.

Thursday morning's symposium, "Areas of Living and Learning," will feature reports by Dr. Ella L. Wood and Prof. Ernest J. Townsend of MCMT; Prof. Nadia Leonardelli of NMCE; Dr. Olive Card of the Department of Public Instruction; and Fred Eshleman of Dearborn-Fordson.

Canadian Soldiers Moved To End Riot

Aldershot, Eng., July 6 (P)—Approximately 2,500 Canadian soldiers were moved today from Aldershot to an undisclosed destination, and civilians in this southern British town braced themselves against a possible third night of rioting.

More than 100 Canadians had been taken in custody after two nights of vandalism blamed on troops protesting at delay in being returned home.

Canadian military headquarters announced the town would be cleared of remaining troops tomorrow.

NAMES VINSON SECRETARY OF U. S. TREASURY

He built a reputation for resisting pressures.

Early this year, when President Roosevelt ousted Jesse Jones as federal loan administrator and Congress refused to permit Henry Wallace to fill the job, Mr. Roosevelt's next choice was Vinson. Hardly had the Kentuckian gotten started with a study of his new powers when James F. Byrnes resigned as war mobilization director and Vinson was called to succeed him there.

Interesting to those who want to know the shape of taxes to come is the fact that Vinson has been outspoken against any reductions in tax rates until the end of the Japanese war. In this, Vinson, Truman and Morgenthau were thoroughly agreed.

Meantime, it was learned that Morgenthau turned in his resignation because he had become weary of frequent rumors that he was about to be replaced.

Rock Lions Make Labor Day Plans

Rock, Mich.—Plans for a Labor Day celebration were made at the last meeting of the Rock Lions club. The Rock Lions have conducted Labor Day festivals for the past two years with great success. The plans for the coming celebration were started early in order to have the event bigger and greater than it has been before and also to inform the other clubs and the public of the plans. More details of the celebration will be published later.

The Rock Lions are busy also with their clubhouse building. It has passed the planning stage and construction work has already started.

Iron River Flier Killed In Mishap

Iron River—Capt. Steve Dennis, 30, a veteran of hazardous flying in Iceland, Newfoundland and over enemy Europe, was killed May 31 in Germany while examining a rifle which discharged and fatally injured him in the left side above the heart.

The meager details of his death were brought to his mother, Mrs. Mary Dennis, of Caspian by his attractive wife Betty whom he married in Georgia the evening he won his pilot wings on April 29, 1942.

The telegram of the war department announcing his death and later an explanatory letter reached the young Mrs. Dennis at Tampa, Fla., where she was making her home.

"To think he went through everything else safely and then to lose his life this way," she said yesterday with misty eyes.

Mrs. Dennis made the long trip to Caspian to meet her husband's family and tell them of all she knew of the accident. It was her first visit to the north and she plans to remain here indefinitely, expressing relief from the torrid weather of the south.

Briefly Told

Fire Call—Escanaba firemen last night were called to a residence apartment at 808 Ludington street, above the London Hat shop, where an overheated refrigerator motor had filled the apartment with smoke.

Sharp Rise In Violations Seen As Threat To Deer Herd

A sharp rise in the number of persons apprehended for conservation law violations during the past ten days may be indicative of a threat to the deer herd in the district during the next four months, Conservation Officer John Anguilm reported yesterday.

"Officers of the district have been organized to meet this threat," Anguilm said. "Forest fire officers are supplementing the regular force on patrol and officers are being shifted into areas where violations are known to occur. Twenty apprehensions have been made during the past ten days.

Offers of assistance have been received by the conservation department from sportsmen who are anxious to preserve the deer herd and to prevent its decimation while many sportsmen are in military service, Anguilm reported.

"The economical value of the deer to the district in a future promising expanded recreational use of the area is too great to consider any slightest justification for out-of-season deer slaying," the conservation officer emphasized.

"The department urges consideration of the value of wildlife to the area and promises vigorous enforcement and prosecution of all persons found in violation."

Lt. Edward Kass Is Presumed Dead

Lt. Edward P. Kass of the Army Air Forces, son of Peter Kass of Powers, who was listed as missing on a mission over German-occupied territory May 29, 1944, has been officially declared dead by the War Department, his father has been advised.

Lt. Kass, who was born at Powers, graduated from Powers-Spaulding high school and Michigan State college, East Lansing. He entered the Army Air Forces in 1942, trained at Merced, Calif., and then went to Yuma, Ariz., where he received his silver wings and a second lieutenant's commission. He was assigned to duty in the European theater of war in January, 1944, and a short time later was promoted to the rank of first lieutenant.

Survivors are his father, one brother, Robert Kass, an aerial runner in the Air Forces, and three sisters, Mrs. Wayne Fleetwood and Miss Carol Kass of Powers; and Miss Dorothy Kass, on the staff of Ford hospital, Detroit.

The young officer's father is a rural mail carrier in the Powers-Spaulding district.

So—it's up to you. It's your turn now, to wear the pants, hold down a job, and take care of the Jones' future finances.

You're smart enough to do it, too. To realize that if you'll take every cent that you don't need to live on and tuck it away in those same War Bonds I've been buying—we'll do all right.

I'll be coming back someday. I know that. I don't think anything could happen to a fellow who's going to marry you. And when I do come back...

With what I've saved in War Bonds, and what you're going to save in War Bonds, and with the extra money those Bonds are going to bring—well...

We'll have a stake. A stake that'll help us to make up for all the time I've been away.

And we'll have something else, too—something that we wouldn't want to be without. Between my fighting and your buying, we'll have the knowledge that we both toed the line and did our share.

So buy those Bonds, honey. And hang onto them. Till the day when I get back—it's up to you!

Urge Universal Training

THE problem of postwar universal military training is now before Congress and presages the most bitter legislative battle of the session. Strong arguments can be made both for and against compulsory peacetime military training. Proponents argue that such training is essential to the United States preparedness program and that a strong America, with a well trained force of military reserves, will guarantee the peace. Opponents contend that compulsory military training is inimical to American tradition of personal liberty and that large armies breed belligerence which, in turn, breed war.

This is a problem that vitally affects the lives of the children of the present and future generations. It is a problem that is closely related to the defense of the nation in the days ahead. Every American must assume a personal responsibility to study this problem from every angle and to assist in making a decision for the best interests of the future of the nation.

The San Francisco charter for world peace is designed to build the framework around which the nations of the world can live in harmony for years to come. It is, however, merely an instrument that depends upon the good will of nations to achieve its purpose. It is no guarantee in itself for world peace and even its most sincere supporters admit that.

At least until such time as the nations of the world prove by their actions that there is no real threat to peace, the United States will have no recourse except to maintain a strong service force. One thing is certain. In the event of another war, the United States would be the first attacked because it has been proved that the power of this nation is so great that no enemy could hope for victory unless that enemy could first neutralize the industrial and military capacity of America.

In achieving a strong national defense, however, the United States will not stand for the establishment of a military hierarchy that could conceivably threaten the personal liberties of its citizenry.

Lake States Promotion

ORGANIZATION problems cropped up in the Mackinac Island conference, called for the purpose of forming a Great Lakes council to promote postwar tourist business in this region.

The original plan was to form an association composed of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Canada, but governors of Indiana, Ohio and Illinois, who were invited to attend the conference, complicated things when they expressed the opinion that their states would like to get in on the deal.

Some of the delegates thought the idea was all right since the lower lake states furnish the bulk of the tourist patronage, but sponsors of the conference held out for the original plan for a northern lakes organization. It is likely that the latter course will be followed for there is the danger of spreading out so thin that effective promotion would be no longer possible.

The important problem of financing the organization remains to be disposed of for most of the delegates at the Mackinac Island were not in a position to make commitments of this kind. A good start has been made, however, and likely the long-cherished dream of a regional tourist promotion program will be realized before the war is over.

Problem Disposed Of

DISPOSITION of the troublesome Polish government issue has been effected by Great Britain and the United States with the recognition of the reconstituted Warsaw regime. As a result, the Polish government in exile in London has been left out in the cold.

President Truman, in announcing the news, indicated that the new Warsaw government had agreed to carry out the portion of the Yalta agreement calling for free elections in that country. The action represents a victory for Russia, which has long held out against the exiled London government in favor of the Warsaw group which actually was Moscow-inspired. Under the Crimean plan approved by the Big Three, the latter group was revamped to include other democratic elements, and apparently is considered more representative of the Polish people.

It must be remembered that prewar government in Poland was not truly democratic. In fact, it was often criticized as being quite close to a military dictatorship. European politics are not run like we are accustomed to in the United States, and all we can do now is hope that the best possible solution has been made of the controversial Polish question.

Dog Troubles Again

APPARENTLY actuated by frequent complaints from the public, the Escanaba council decided to put more teeth in the city ordinance by writing in a penalty for canine owners who neglect to buy licenses for their pets. Dog lovers who violate this section of the ordinance will be subject to a fine of $10 or 10 days in jail.

Of course, the complaints do not come because dogs are unlicensed. The trouble starts when dogs run loose through flower and vegetable gardens, bite children, bark at cyclists and make themselves nuisances in other ways. They can commit all these offenses while proudly wearing shiny license tags.

Feud at Interlochen

JAMES C. PETRILLO, America's music dictator, will probably learn that he started something when he used his strong union's power to bar the National Music Camp at Interlochen from radio broadcasting.

The kids have gotten into the fight. One thousand of them have sent letters to their congressmen asking passage of the Vandenberg-Dondero bill, which would give them the right to broadcast their Interlochen concert programs over national networks. Petrillo has ruled that Interlochen is on the "unfair list" because the boys and girls do not pay dues to his union. He has forced the radio networks to deny broadcasting privileges to them the past four seasons.

Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, founder of the Interlochen camp, has been a member of the American Federation of Musicians for 36 years, but this week he showed his disapproval of Petrillo's tactics by personally directing the Interlochen musicians in a concert even though they have been placed on the unfair list. Someday, Czar Petrillo, like Mussolini and other self-established dictators, will go just too far with his high-handed stuff—if he hasn't done it already.

Other Editorial Comments

SOUND APPROACH

(Marquette Mining Journal)
Escanaba some months ago dealt with the problem of inequitable assessments by engaging a firm who sent appraisers to the city to determine the value of taxable property. It may not have done a perfect job, but the values it recommended were more equitable, compared with one another, than those on which taxes formerly were based.

But if relative equality in assessments was obtained in Escanaba the question whether city property was over-assessed compared with property in the remainder of the county was left open. If there is to be fair apportionment of county taxes all property in a county must be valued on the same basis.

The Delta county supervisors have decided that Escanaba city made a sound approach to the problem of securing equitable taxation. They propose to have undertaken in Gladstone and in the townships a value survey similar to the one obtained by Escanaba.

To secure sound results the same formulas that were applied in Escanaba should be applied in the other subdivisions of the county. If this is done, and due account is taken in future years of changes in value, equitable distribution of county taxes should be obtained. Not only this, it would be assured that taxes in each of the subdivisions were as equitably distributed as could reasonably be expected.

What Escanaba and Delta county have done should have the attention of other counties in the area. Assessments as a rule a "guess and by gosh" activity in which many inequalities are continued from year to year. Even if there is no favoritism it leaves much to be desired. This will be true until there is expert and disinterested appraisal all along the line.

HA!

(Christian Science Monitor)
The veteran battleship Pennsylvania, her main battery worn out by ten pre-invasion bombardments, has been re-gunned from the casualties of the Pearl Harbor attack. With five of the 14-inch monsters from the capsized Oklahoma, six from the heavily damaged Nevada, and one of her own, all relined by a new process, the old flagship is off to the front again. That's something to light a gleam in the eye. More like the story books than today's mechanized warfare. Our hero smites the foe with especial righteousness and vim, for his sword was his father's, his spear had been Uncle Gawain's, and his shield was tried and tested by Grandfather Lancelot. Maybe we can't go aboard the Pennsylvania. But just the idea makes us say "Ha!" and step off smartly.

Take My Word For It

Frank Colby

HANDBOOK OF PRACTICAL ENGLISH
Q. My class in business English wants to know if there is any rule for using direct and indirect as adverbs.
A. The words are interchangeable in the meaning of "in a straight way or route," as to go direct (or: directly) to New York.
However, directly, in American usage more strongly suggests, "immediately, in a little while," as, "Ask him to wait; I'll see him directly." Therefore, it seems desirable to observe this distinction:
Direct: In a straight way or route.

In Congress you can make a career these days by being against Cartels. It's as safe as being against sin and the common cold.

To be ultra-safe, you can be against Cartels in Germany. Nobody wants Cartels in Germany.

What Congress conveniently overlooks is that it is in itself a kind of political Cartel. Or, rather, under certain circumstances it becomes a tight little political monopoly with freedom of action frozen to zero.

That happened over extension of the fair employment practices committee, first in the Senate and then in the House. Senator Theodore (the man) Bilbo of Mississippi resorted to filibuster to block consideration of FEPC. He was ably assisted by his colleague, Senator James O. Eastland of Rulesville, Mississippi, who made one of the most shocking speeches ever heard on the floor of the Senate, in the course of which he slandered not merely whole races, but the armed forces of the United States as a body.

—ONE-TENTH OF A VOTE—
Mississippi has a population of 2,184,000. In the 1940 primary election Bilbo got 91,000 votes, which was 29,000 more than his nearest opponent. Bilbo's total was less than 10 per cent of all potential voters in the poll tax state. It is a small fraction of one per cent of all the voters in the country, yet, nevertheless, Bilbo can say no to all of us.

The great majority of senators, who favored the FEPC, finally were able to break the Mississippi filibuster and include a provision for its continuance in a war appropriation measure. On the other side of the capitol, FEPC came up against the perfect ring—an air-tight trust—for preserving a political monopoly which in the past has repeatedly blocked progressive legislation.

This is the House Rules committee. The Rules committee is a bottleneck through which all legislation must pass before it reaches the floor for action. It is a very narrow passage. By comparison, the biblical needle's eye is a broad boulevard.

Of the 12 members of the Rules committee, six are Democrats from southern or border states. For all practical purposes, that is a working majority. Two of these men, Eugene Cox of Georgia and Howard Smith of Virginia, are veterans who know every parliamentary trick. They are also two of the most reactionary members of the House.

In effect, Cox and Smith run that committee. They set beside the monopoly toll bridge and say what shall get by. They are masters of the political trust which, by reason of the Rules committee, the House has become. If 218 members sign a petition, the Rules committee can be bypassed; but it's hard to get 218 people to sign any kind of petition.

—SENATORIAL COURTESY—

Another monopoly device is called "Senatorial Courtesy." It has been used over and over again to keep back legislation that one or two individuals wanted to kill. In recent weeks, it has been used to hold up approval of plans for international airlines after the war.

Two individuals, Senator Owen Brewster of Maine (population 847,226) and Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada (population 110,247), favor a community company to operate for America in the overseas field. This monopoly company, presumably representing all airline interests, would have the backing of the government.

But the declared policy of our government, as expressed by an act of congress, is for competition in the foreign as well as the domestic field. A majority in the commerce committee and in the Senate itself are apparently still of that mind. Yet, but putting in a new bill for a community company, Senator McCarran, with the backing of Senator Brewster, has held the whole matter up.

The next time someone in Congress rants about Cartels and their evils, the way will be wide open for a senator or a representative with a sterner sense of the realities to ask some leading questions. A political Cartel can be more dangerous than an economic Cartel. The one can be used to support the other, as has happened repeatedly.

Congress appropriates fairly generously for the anti-trust division of the department of justice. Fighting the trusts, as Thurman Arnold has pointed out, is part of our political folklore. But Congress can begin right at home and do a good job of trust-busting.

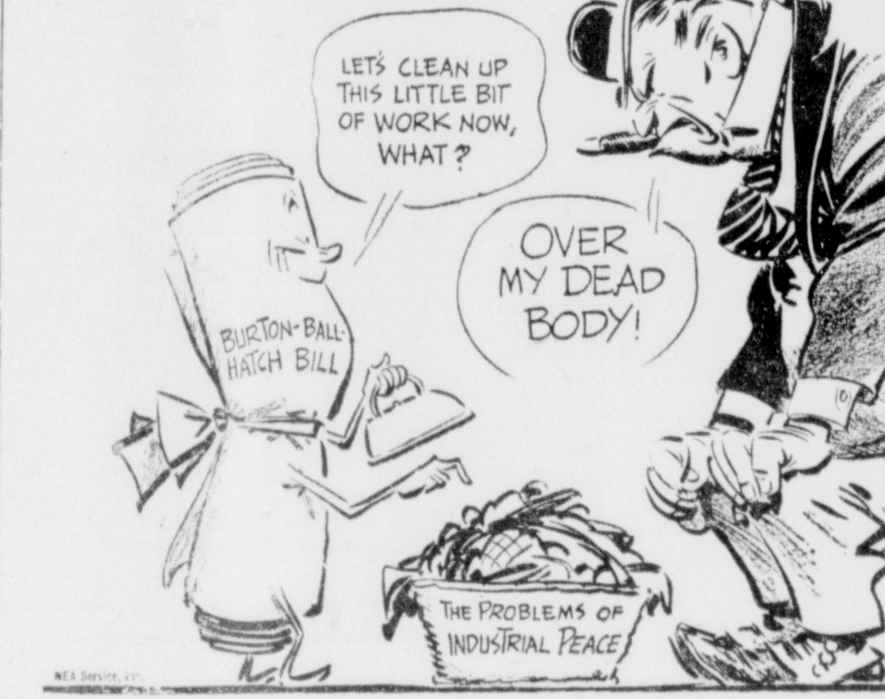

Directly: Immediately, in a little while. Examples:
Ship the goods by the most direct route. Have him write to me direct. We shall go direct to New York.
I shall attend to it directly. He should be here directly.

Q. In a recent magazine article this phrase was used: "... a soldier returning unsuccessfully from a supply mission." Isn't that another of your horrible adverbs?
A. Yes. If he "returned unsuccessfully," he was unsuccessful in returning, and, therefore, he never got back! No, it wasn't the return that was made unsuccessfully (adverb), it was the soldier who was unsuccessful (adjective) in carrying out his mission. Therefore: a soldier returning unsuccessfully supply mission.

One does not need to be a grammatical master mind to decide quickly whether to use an adjective or an adverb in such constructions. But in recent years American writers have gone on a veritable adverbial binge of feeling and looking "badly," arriving "safely," falling "helplessly," etc.

IRONING OUT A BIG JOB LIKE THIS IS A SNAP—

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

SOLAR ECLIPSE — What has been termed by scientists "a major scientific event of unusual interest" is the coming eclipse of the sun on Monday, July 9. It will be a total eclipse of the sun visible as a partial eclipse near sunrise from most of North America.

In this area the visible eclipse will be about 75 per cent in extent. It will begin about 6:08 a. m. (CWT), will reach its maximum about one hour later, and will end one hour after that.

If you are so inclined therefore, or have insomnia, it will be worth your while to get out earlier Monday morning to observe that "major scientific event of unusual interest."

MANY USES — The eclipse of the sun has many uses. Many will recall how the hero of Mark Twain's "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" used his astronomy to save his life.

You will remember that just about as he was to be burned at the stake it came to him that a total eclipse of the sun was scheduled for that moment. He warned his captors that if they lighted the wood pile at his feet he would blot out the sun. They did and he did, whereupon they begged him to bring back their beloved sun. This the Connecticut Yankee agreed to do provided he was freed—and so he lived to become the Sir Boss of that stirring story.

Of course Mark Twain's approach to an eclipse of the sun was purely fictional. Not so those astronomers who will study most closely the eclipse scheduled Monday.

Research by scientists during the eclipse will include:
1—Photography of the brighter parts of the outer atmosphere of the sun, known as the corona;
2—Re-verification, in some degree, of the Einstein eclipse effect (and don't ask me what that is);
3—Spectroscopic observation of the layer of the sun's atmosphere; and
4—Investigation of the sun's effect on the ionosphere and Heavily-layers of the earth's atmosphere.

WIDELY VISIBLE — Although the face of the sun during the eclipse will be completely obscured only for a strip thirty miles wide through the states of Idaho and Montana, it will be witnessed in its partial phases from all the rest of the country except southern California.

In the western states the sun will rise Monday morning partially eclipsed. Here in Michigan and Delta county (unless it rains that morning as usual) you will see the sun come up full and round and then become progressively obscured to about 75 per cent of its total area, and then slowly disclose itself again.

HOW TO SEE IT—Albert W. Reicht, director of Chamberlin Observatory, University of Denver, advises that only through smoked glass or dark film may all phases of an eclipse of the sun be observed. For the sun is far too dazzling, even in partial eclipse, to be observed with the unprotected eye.

These dark filters can be made beforehand and tested on the sun, so you will be prepared for Monday morning.

A piece of glass smoked with a candle is satisfactory, although the lampblack rubs off easily on your fingers—or nose. A piece of photographic film fogged to the right density is better.

FIRST SINCE 1932—The eclipse on Monday will be the first total

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—A significant, off-the-record meeting took place between Secretary of War Stimson, one-time Republican candidate for Governor of New York, and Democratic Governor Herbert Lehman, five times governor of New York, now head of UNRRA.

Lehman has been greatly troubled about the danger of acute starvation in Europe next winter, and fears the United States will get the blame. Actually, there is food in Europe; but it is unevenly distributed and difficult to transport to cities. Meanwhile, European railroads are overburdened.

Ex-Governor Lehman, therefore, went to see Stimson to point out that the U. S. army had 800,000 trucks in Europe, and he wanted to borrow 50,000 of them for food distribution.

Stimson listened briefly, but turned the subject to the political situation in Europe. He seemed much more interested in whether Europe could keep the peace, apparently forgetting that people with full stomachs are more peaceful than those half-starved. Lehman got no definite answer, and still has been unable to get an answer from Stimson's generals. They keep saying they need trucks for "deployment."

—BRASS HATS IN HOT WATER—

The same subject, plus other important matters, was debated in a secret session of the Mead committee last week. Present were representatives of UNRRA, the state department, war department, foreign economic administration, treasury and maritime commission. All got in hot water during the three-hour closed-door meeting except the maritime commission and UNRRA. Unpopular brass hat General Brehon Somervell, who showed up with a small army of 60 aides, took the worst thumping of all.

Somervell admitted under questioning that the army has at least 50,000 surplus trucks in Europe. New York's hard-working Senator Mead then asked Governor Lehman if he had been able to pick up any of these trucks for relief work.

"Do you want any of these trucks?" asked Mead.

"Do we want them?" replied Lehman. "The trouble is we can't get them. We can't seem to get them released. I've got a telegram from Yugoslavia here telling that one Hungry Yugoslav city, Sarajevo, has only three trucks to feed thousands of people. Why, some towns are starving, while they're burning the food just a few miles away in the same country because they can't move. A year from now the army will be begging us to take trucks. Then we won't need them. We want them now when they can save lives."

Several senators quizzed Somervell as to why UNRRA hadn't received the trucks yet. All the General could reply was, "The war department's working on it."

After more discussion, Lehman, whose anger was rising, stood up from the back of the room, looked straight at Somervell, and said:

"There's all that surplus army stuff, especially in Italy. Why can't we get it?" Somervell hesitated. "We want to cooperate," he said lamely, "and we're going to."

—HARRY HOPKINS: CLOTHING CZAR—

Harry Hopkins, who has just resigned as special aid to President Truman, has agreed to become impartial arbitrator of the Women's Garment industry at a $25,000 a year salary.

Hopkins was invited to take the post by International Ladies Garment Workers' Union President David Dubinsky. The position has just been vacated by former New York Mayor James J. Walker. It calls for the arbitration of all disputes between the union and employers in the women's wear field.

After President Roosevelt's death, Dubinsky offered the job to Presidential Special Counsel Sam Rosenman. Rosenman accepted the proposal and told Dubinsky he would leave the White House service at the earliest possible moment. However, President Truman insisted that Rosenman stay on at the White House for another year as his personal counsel and Rosenman acceded to the new chief executive's request.

Last week, when Hopkins finally made up his mind to leave the White House, Rosenman suggested that he take on the relatively easy post of impartial arbitrator of the Ladies' Garment industry. Hopkins, who has never been a wealthy man, agreed. Hopkins will also devote himself to writing magazine articles about the Roosevelt ERA, and next fall may write his memoirs as the man closest to the late war President.

Gracie Allen Says--

Fort Lewis, Wash.—Well, I see that when a strike prevented delivery of some New York newspapers, Mayor La Guardia rushed into the crisis, and read the funnies to the children over the radio, so they wouldn't miss any installments. It seems he growled and puffed and made such wonderful sound effects like "Eek" and "Blam" that the newspapers are worried for fear the children will demand the Mayor as a supplement with the funnies from now on.

Goodness, if Mayor La Guardia were running for re-election, he'd probably have rushed right into the kiddies' homes and given his readings in costume.

I think Congress is going to get some ideas from him, as it is. Reading the funnies over the air is a lot easier than kissing all the babies in your district, and besides, it saves transportation.

Birthday Party
A birthday party was given on July 2 for Kenneth Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hamilton, on the occasion of his fourth birthday. A beautiful cake centered the table which was decorated with the Fourth of July motif. Games were played after which a dainty lunch was served. The following guests were present: Sharon and Paul Frederickson, Billy, Sandy and Walter Hamilton, Lucy Mae Anderson, Millie Boudreau, Roy Lee and Kenneth's brother, Ralph Hamilton. Mrs. Anderson and Hamilton also were guests.

Miss McNaulty of Chicago assisted Mrs. Hamilton with the party.

It Takes Time For Husbands To Grow Up

BY RUTH MILLETT
"Lieutenant keeps Dignity. Loses Wife" said the headline over a brief news item. It seems that in Detroit a wife divorced her husband, a second lieutenant, because he refused to carry groceries for her—saying it was unbecoming his military rank.

It seems a pity she didn't put off divorce proceedings long enough to let her husband get used to the novelty of being an officer—even perhaps long enough to allow him to get a promotion or two. By then he most likely wouldn't have worried about carrying a bundle.

Most women have unlimited patience in handling their kids. They have been told over and over by the experts not to get excited over behavior problems, that all children go through phases when they are rebellious, when they like to assert their authority, when they like to say naughty words, etc. And so mothers are, on the whole, pretty good about letting their kids "grow up."

But nobody has ever told them they ought to be just as patient with a husband who still has a little growing up to do before he is completely adult in all of his reactions.

A very young man with very new gold bars might put a little too much stress on his dignity. But chances are he would get over it in time.

Many a young father who at first thought it was beneath his dignity to diaper a baby changed his mind after he got really used to the new member of the family.

So, women who are quick to claim they grow up faster than do men ought to be patient until their men catch up with them.

Today's Recipes

Sugarless Cake
2 cups sifted flour
2 tsp. Calumet baking powder
1/2 cup shortening
1 Tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup syrup
2 eggs—unbeaten
1/2 cup milk

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, sift together 3 times. Cream shortening, add syrup gradually beating well after each addition, add 1/4 of flour and beat until smooth and well blended. (Note the new way of mixing) add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Add remaining flour in thirds, alternately with milk in halves beating very well after each addition, add vanilla. For chocolate cake substitute dark syrup for light and add to squares melted chocolate or 1/4 cup cocoa.

GLADSTONE

MARY MALOTT IS LIFEGUARD

Remains At Local Beach As Swimming, Birling Instructor

Mary Jean Malott, champion woman birler who came to Gladstone from the Pacific coast to help out and give exhibitions at the Amateur Roleo on July 4 will remain here as chief lifeguard and swimming instructor at the local bathing beach, it is announced by City Manager H. J. Henrikson.

Miss Malott is a qualified Red Cross swimming instructor and lifeguard.

In addition to swimming instructions, Miss Malott will also teach the art of log rolling to all children who wish to learn. A 50-foot enclosure is being erected at the beach and logs are being taken from the harbor to the enclosure.

Children wishing to learn to swim or birl may register at the beachhouse at any time during the day or evening. Classes will start Monday morning. It will be determined what time is the best suited to all concerned and the class set for the most convenient hour.

It is planned to hold swimming, birling and other contests at the beach each week-end, probably on Saturday during the summer months.

Supervised swimming is conducted from 10 to 12 o'clock noon, 1:30 to 5:30 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

Other lifeguards at the beach are Joyce Davis and Lawrence Trudeau.

The day following the roleo many youngsters swarmed to the platform and diving board which had been erected in the yacht basin. The platform has now been removed and City Manager Henrikson warns children that they should confine their aquatic activities to a supervised area.

PRESENT MEDAL FOR LT. CANNON

Posthumous Award Will Be Made Here Sunday To Flier's Father

The Distinguished Flying Cross will be presented posthumously, Sunday, July 8, to Peter R. Cannon, of 1216 Dakota avenue, Gladstone, the father of the late First Lieutenant Joseph E. Cannon, of the United States Marine Corps.

The presentation will be made by Captain William H. Floody, oficer in charge of Marine recruiting for the State of Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. The ceremony will take place at a joint meeting of the August Mattson Post of Gladstone, and the Cloverland Post of Escanaba, American Legion, Department of Michigan and will be held at the headquarters of the August Mattson Post.

Lieutenant Cannon was awarded this medal for extraordinary achievement and heroism while serving with Marine Aircraft Group Fourteen in combat against enemy Japanese forces in the Solomon Islands area.

The citation accompanying the decoration reads in part: "Setting out as part of a four-plane escort to a group of dive bombers ordered to attack ground installations on Munda Point, Second Lieutenant Cannon encountered fifteen enemy Zero-type fighters. In the ensuing action he fought with skill and accuracy, personally shooting down two enemy planes and contributing to the destruction of eight additional hostile aircraft. Driving off the remaining Zeros with grim determination and cool courage, Second Lieutenant Cannon and his comrades enabled our dive bombers, un molested, to complete their mission successfully. His gallant devotion to duty was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Drowning Was Not At U. P. Bible Camp, Says Rev. Young
Rev. J. Fred Young, pastor of the Bethel Free church of Gladstone, wishes to correct the impression that Louis Yeardon of Rock, who was drowned at Farmers Lake Wednesday, was attending a picnic held by the Upper Peninsula Bible Camp.

Reverend Young says the Yeardon family was picnicking on the opposite side of the lake from the Bible Campgrounds. He added that the newspaper report of the drowning had alarmed parents of children who plan to attend the Bible camp, where the beach is under strict supervision.

Bark River

Bal-Kiefasz Wedding
Bark River, Mich.—Miss Victoria Bal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bal, of Norway became the bride of John Kiefasz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kiefasz of Bark River, on June 30. Father Dooley performed the ceremony at St. Mary's church in Norway.

A white rug leading to the altar decorated the church while beautiful pennants decorated the altar. The traditional wedding march and Ave Maria were used for the music at the service. Best man was Lewis Bal, August Stavick, Lewis Belsky, and Stanley Grzyb served as ushers.

The bride's gown was ivory satin with a pearl necklace and a long train. Her veil was edged with lace and she wore a pearl necklace. Her flowers were calla lilies and snapdragons. Ann Kiefasz, sister of the bridegroom who served as maid of honor, wore a gown of pink marie taffeta with a skirt covered with a netting in the identical tint. Her train was of pink and bluish blue. Helen and Josephine Kiefasz, other sisters of the bridegroom, and Virginia Wagner and Elizabeth Stanek, relatives of the bride, served as the other attendants. Their dresses were in ice blue and of a similar style to that of the maid of honor's.

Mrs. Kiefasz, mother of the bridegroom, wore a powder blue crepe dress, while Mrs. Bal, mother of the bride, wore a white dotted dress made of rember. Both mothers had corsages of roses.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the Bark River community hall. Dinner and refreshments were served to 500 guests.

CHIMNEYS HIT IN NOON STORM

Severe Electrical Storm Accompanied By Hail And Rain

Chimneys seemed to be the particular target for the bolts of lightning that flashed with split-second regularity for about fifteen minutes in a storm that hit this area Friday noon.

At the Henning Mattson residence at 546 Michigan avenue, a chimney was blasted as completely as if Thor's hammer had struck the blow. Bricks from it were found fully one hundred feet away. Nothing was left of it above the roof. A chimney toward the rear of the Liberty Cafe was also ripped wide open and one over the A & P store was also damaged. A bolt knocked a hole in the Ford garage, hurling three mechanics to the floor. They were unhurt.

The storm was accompanied by half an inch of rain and some hail. Damage from hail, however, is not regarded as serious.

The telephone company received numerous calls from all parts of the city to come and repair service knocked out by the lightning.

DOUBLEHEADER WON BY BRAVES

Boston, July 6, (AP)—Pounding three Pittsburgh pitchers for 19 hits, including three doubles by Tommy Holmes who established a new modern National league record by hitting safely in his 34th consecutive game, the Boston Braves trounced the Pirates 14-8 in the second game of a double-header today. Boston also won the first game, 13-5.

The major leagues' batting leader, who jumped six points to 406 during the double bill, wiped out Rogers Hornsby's 33-game mark, set back in 1922, the hard way.

A left-handed batter, he doubled his first times up in both games against southpaw pitchers Al Gerheuser and Preacher Roe.

Holmes went to bat 10 times, five in each contest, and totaled a home run, four two-baggers and a single.

Those mighty blows drove in a total of six runs, thereby enabling Tommy to take the lead for both leagues in that department with a 66 total.

Holmes also is pacing the majors in manufacturing hits, 122, runs 73 and two-baggers 24. He and teammate Chuck Workman are only one behind this year's top home slugger, the Giants' Ernie Lombardi, who got his 14th today to break his deadlock with the St. Louis Browns' Vern Stephens.

Scores by innings:

First game—
Pittsburgh . . . 110 000 300—5 9 3
Boston . . . 021 200 62x—13 12 0
Gerheuser, Beck, Rescigno and Salkelo; Andrews, Cooper and Hoffarth.

Second game—
Pittsburgh . . . 200 001 005—8 13 2
Boston . . . 370 020 02x—14 19 2
Roe, Beck, Gables and Lopez; Hendrickson and Hoffarth.

PHILLIES DEFEATED

Philadelphia, July 6 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs continued their sweep through the east tonight, defeating the Philadelphia Phillies 11-3 and 5-1 to take both ends of a two-night twin bill.

The Cubs have won seven straight and 10 out of the last 12 games played.

In the second game, Paul Derringer held the Phils to five hits and drove two runs across the plate as he won his ninth victory against three defeats.

The Phils stirred up a little trouble when they knocked Ray Starr out of the box in the third inning, scoring three runs. Ray Prim took over and held the Phils in check.

First
Chicago . . . 050 051 500—11 17 0
Philadelphia . . . 003 000 000—3 8 1
Starr, Prim and Livingston; Grate, Montegudo and Mancuso, Spindell.

Second
Chicago . . . 100 110 020—5 15 0
Philadelphia . . . 000 000 100—1 5 1
Derringer and Williams; Mauney, Karl Spindell, Seminick.

DODGERS BEATEN

Brooklyn, July 6 (AP)—Brooklyn's National league lead slunk to one game tonight as the St. Louis Cardinals handed the Dodgers their worst beating of the season.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

Charley Brock, veteran center of the Green Bay Packers, has signed his 1945 contract, the 12th lineman to sign up with the Packers thus far. In reward, Brock was appointed field captain for the coming year. Coach Lambeau reported that Brock was named field pilot because of his fine six-year record with the Bays, his aggressiveness and hard work and his popularity with his teammates. Five backfield men also have signed for the fall season, Lambeau reported. The Packers did not have any regular field captain last year, the position being filled by appointment before each game.

Two teams of the newly organized United States Negro baseball league, the Detroit Motor City Giants and the Philadelphia Hill-dales were scheduled to play an exhibition game in Green Bay yesterday, under auspices of the Victory-Industrial league there. As part of the show Jesse Owens, regarded as the greatest track and field star of all time, also was son, 15-3, before a turnout of 30,254 paying customers at the last Ebbets field night game of the campaign.

Blix Donnelly went the route for the Red Birds who now are only a half game behind second place Chicago and one and a half off the pace, coasting home on a 19-hit attack against Vic Lombardi and three successors. Lombardi was driven to cover in the second inning when the world champs gathered eight hits and scored seven runs.

Ray Sanders contributed a double and three singles to pace the heavy attack, batting in six runs, three on a bases-clearing double in the eighth.

St. Louis . . . 070 000 350—15 19 0
Brooklyn . . . 200 100 000—3 9 3
Donnelly and Rice; Lombardi King, Rudolph Buker and Peacock, Sandlock.

REDS WIN, 3-2

New York, July 6 (AP)—Taking advantage of New York's inability to hit in the pinches, the Cincinnati Reds gained their first victory over the Giants in seven starts this season when young Howard Fox shaded Van Mungo 3-2 today.

The Giants combed the rookie's righthanded offerings for nine hits and coaxed seven bases on balls, but hit into three double plays to spoil promising rallies and stranded 12 runners on the basepaths.

Ernie Lombardi hit his 14th homer of the year for the Giants in the eighth with nobody on base to regain the league lead from Boston's Tommy Holmes, but flied out in the ninth with the bases populated to end the game.

The defeat was Mungo's fourth against nine victories, while Fox gained his fourth triumph against two losses.

Cincinnati . . . 000 300 000—3 8 0
New York . . . 000 010 010—2 9 0
Fox and R. Riddle, Unser; Mungo and Lombardi.

YANKEES DOWN TIGERS 5 TO 4

31,288 Fans See Detroit Drop One Game From Its League Lead

Detroit, July 6 (AP)—Oscar Grimes drove in three runs with two singles and a double today as the New York Yankees downed the Detroit Tigers 5 to 4 before a record twilight crowd of 31,288 fans.

The crowd boosted Detroit attendance over the half million mark to 508,212 for 37 home games and closed out the Tigers' seven-game twilight schedule at an average of 20,462.

New York overcame a three-run lead to hammer Frank (Stubby) Overmire from the box in the eighth inning after the Tiger southpaw had yielded a dozen hits. Grimes' single, followed by triples from Mike Garbar and George Stinewiss, accounted for two runs in the eighth that put the Yanks ahead 5-3 and meant the victory despite Detroit's rally for one run in the ninth.

Floyd Bevens, New York right-hander, went all the way giving 10 hits, fanning pinch-hitter Hank Greenberg in the ninth and forcing Roy Cullenbine to fly out to end the game with Detroit runners on first and third.

Cut Tigers Lead
The Yankee victory, fifth in 13 games on their current road trip, cut a full game off Detroit's league lead.

The Tigers combined walks by Joe Judge, Rudy York and Jim Outlaw with Doc Cramer's infield hit and Bob Maier's double to left to chase across three runs in the first inning but lost excellent scoring opportunities in the fourth and fifth when the Yanks came up with timely double plays.

New York, meanwhile, got one run back in the fourth on a pair of singles and an infield out and tied the score at 3-all in the sixth when Nick Etten walked. Tuck Stainback beat out a hit to Hoover and Grimes drove in two runs with his double to right.

Two singles and a hit batsman loaded the bases for the Yanks in the seventh with two out but Cramer dragged down Bud Metheny's fly to rub out the threat.

Newhouse to Pitch
When the Yankees bunched three hits for their final two runs in the eighth Dixey Trout relieved Overmire, walked Frank Crosetti and Hershel Martin to fill the bases and fanned Nick Etten for the third out.

Maier opened the Tiger ninth with his third hit, a sharp single to center, but Bevens threw a called third strike past Greenberg, whose pinch single broke up yesterday's game with Boston.

Crosetti bobbled Trout's ground-er to put two runners aboard but Chuck Hostetler, batting for Hoover, flied to Martin in left for the second out. Eddie Mayo singled to right, scoring Maier and putting Trout on third with the tying run but it never scored as Cullenbine flied to Tuck Stainback.

Hal Newhouse, shooting for his 13th win, was slated to oppose Bill Zuber of the Yanks in tomorrow afternoon's single game.

SENATORS

St. Louis, July 6 (AP)—The Washington Senators, continuing their winning streak, downed the American league champion St. Louis Browns 5 to 2 in the second game of a twilight-night double-header tonight. Washington won the first game 6 to 3, the victory going to Johnny Niggeling for his third triumph of the season.

In the second game, Washington clouted 10 hits off Jack Kramer, scoring one run in the first inning, two each in the third and seventh frames. Rookie Santiago "Big Boy" started on the mound but was relieved by Alejandro Carrasquel in the third.

St. Louis scored twice in the

Mormon Crickets May Be Killed By Large Black Wasps

Renov, Nev. One million crop-devouring Mormon crickets may be killed per square mile of territory in a season, by chunky-bodied black wasps belonging to one species, Dr. Ira LaRivers of the University of Nevada estimates on the basis of careful counts made on measured sample plots in the field. He tells of his observations in the new issue of the American Midland Naturalist.

Mormon crickets are not so called because Mormons regard them with any favor. Quite on the contrary, they are among the worst insect pests that beset farmers in Utah and surrounding states; their crawling, hopping, hordes at times lay waste fields in the intermountain basin of the West as did the locust plague of ancient Egypt. That is why the heavy slaughter inflicted on them by the wasp is both important and welcome, not only to Latter-Day Saints but to all the inhabitants of the land.

Dagenais Grocers Will Play Buckeye Owls On Sunday

Dagenais Grocery will play the Buckeye Owls of Gladstone Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock on No. 2 diamond, near the state fairgrounds. The Dagenais team is on top in the Escanaba American League with a nine and one record. The Buckeye outfit is composed of players who work nights and are unable to play in the Gladstone league. However, the Owls are reputed to be on par with the strong Buckeye Locals who lead the Gladstone loop.

Chuck Weber will pitch for Dagenais with Skinny Hanson catching. The Buckeye team is expected to start Lefty Lake on the mound and his receiver will be Francis Lagina. Lake held the hard-hitting Grocers to three hits and two runs a week ago at Gladstone, although he lost the game, 2 to 0.

Evolution Chemical Speeds Plant Growth

Chapel Hill, N. C.—Colchicine, the "evolution chemical" that has been used to originate new species of plants by multiplying the heredity-bearing chromosomes of old ones, also has the power of greatly speeding up plant growth when used in weaker concentration, Prof. Earl H. Newcomer of the University of North Carolina states in the new issue of Science.

Prof. Newcomer used colchicine in a four-tenths of one per cent solution. He placed one drop of this per day on the growing points of young oak and chestnut trees, hazel bushes and other plants. In some cases the treatment produced unfavorable results, even death, but in 16 seedlings of the species named he found that growth went on at double the usual rate.

HALT SLEEPERS, U. P. TO CHICAGO

ODT's Suspension Order Affects Pullmans In Peninsula

The cancellation of Pullman accommodations for all civilian travel of less than 450 miles will result in suspension of sleeper service from the upper peninsula to Chicago via the Chicago and North Western railroad. The railroad distance from Ishpeming to Chicago is 391 miles, considerably under the 450 mile limitation established by the Office of Defense Transportation. The new regulation becomes effective July 15, according to the announcement made yesterday.

The Pullman suspension order will cause some individual inconveniences to travelers from the upper peninsula to Chicago, but the sleeper travel has reduced considerably since the C. & N. W. 400 has been placed in operation. There were two sleepers assigned to the evening train to Chicago before the "400" was placed into service, but the increased load handled by the streamliner resulted in a discontinuance of one of the sleeper cars. Even that car was not filled to capacity regularly in mid-week, although the reservations generally were heavy at weekends.

The suspension order is expected to further increase the popularity of the streamliner trains.

S/Sgt. J. Lueneburg Given Bronze Star

S/Sgt. John M. Lueneburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lueneburg, 524 South Nineteenth street, has been awarded the bronze star medal for meritorious service in combat on the Italian front.

His citation, signed by R. E. S. Williamson, brigadier general, U. S. Army, read as follows:

"John M. Lueneburg, staff sergeant, infantry, United States Army. For meritorious service in combat from April 13, 1945, to April 16, 1945, in the Italian campaign. Staff Sergeant Lueneburg, the company communications sergeant, worked without rest laying communications wire to the company's forward positions. The laying and repairing of the wire lines placed Staff Sergeant Lueneburg constantly under heavy enemy mortar, artillery and sniper fire. His coolness under fire, his will to destroy the enemy and his courageous actions exemplify the highest traditions of the infantry and the army of the United States. Entered military service from Escanaba, Mich."

Onion And Celery Crop Outlook Good

Lansing, July 6. (AP)—Outlook for Michigan's onion crop is good, the federal-state crop reporting service said Friday in a report on Michigan truck crops.

The celery crop is moving well from Muskegon, Grand Haven, Hudsonville and Kalamazoo and present volume should be maintained throughout July, the service said.

Cantaloupe crop was reported only fair and the carrot crop as average.

antiquated coaches on the trip from Boston.

They are veterans of the 95th Infantry Division and the Eighth Air Force. They told reporters here of riding in cars with broken toilets, a shortage of washing facilities and with cardboard rectangles covering broken windows.

ILLEGAL NETS NOT FOR SALE

Gear Seized In Green Bay Waters To Be Destroyed

Lansing, July 6. (AP)—Illegal fishing nets, worth about $3,000 recently seized in Green Bay waters, will not be offered for sale, the state conservation department said Friday.

The department revealed that Leonard R. Shapiro, Milwaukee, had offered to purchase the nets for shipments to Palestine where he planned to sell them to fishermen using the Mediterranean and Red Seas. Shapiro was informed, the department said, that the webbing of the nets would be destroyed and that the leads and corks would be sold at public auction. The 10 miles of undersized nets, containing a half ton of fish, were seized by the conservation department on June 28 in Michigan waters of Green Bay and now are held at Charlevoix pending final disposition of the case.
